

6th Annual

2009 HIV/AIDS PEER EDUCATOR TRAINING FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The Montana Office of Public Instruction is proud to once again offer the 2009 HIV/AIDS Peer Educator training for high school students. The OPI is funded through a grant with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to provide medically accurate information on HIV prevention education and behaviors that affect sexual health and well-being.

- Students will be trained in age-appropriate teaching strategies and lesson plans for use with K-12 students.
- Your team of students will gain knowledge and confidence, allowing them to become peer educators to other students in their school and region of Montana.
- Peer educators will be trained in the topics of sexuality, unintended pregnancy and STD prevention, bullying-harrassment, self-esteem, consequences of decision-making, refusal skills and reasons for abstinence, acceptance for persons with HIV.
